Play the Game

A game of sport is "friendly rivalry" and this should apply to all sports whether baseball, hockey, tennis or curling. Young people take part in these healthy exercises to equip them to meet the battle of life and play under similar rules in the business world.

The Wainwright Record has a little game which lasts in all printing offices from November till the spring months—that of collecting subscriptions. On the corner of each paper a label is applied showing the date on which the paper expired. The subscriber is asked to look at the label and if it is in arrears, to call into the printing office and renew same.

To the subscriber it is only $1.50 and such a small amount is often put off to a later date, some times indefinitely, thus saddening a publisher with a load which both parties should carry co-operatively.

In the ensuing week it will be appreciated if all subscribers will check the date on their papers and call around at the Record Office.

Hoping to see you tomorrow,

The Editor.

Irrational Remarks

Man's inconsistency of thought is conspicuous on some occasions. His operations from the realm of common reasoning is so erratic that it draws the attention of the commonest of us who have power of thought to consider his statements.

Following the war, a great scarcity of food caused the price of wheat to rise enormously, and the statement was sometimes heard that $100 would not be seen again for fifty years possibly, or never, irrespective of the fact that many of those responsible for such statements had seen $0.00 to $1.25 wheat on the market for steady years in their earlier lives.

A few days ago an article appeared where a gentleman to doing one of the recognized responsible positions of a nation, while addressing a gathering of business men, came out with the statement that wheat would never reach the dollar mark again. People who read and think swallowed such talk quite likely with a grain of salt. But such chatter has a disquieting effect on a good number of people who generation after generation have been trained to look for guidance to those holding the lines of big institutions and country affairs.

That such chatter will all affect the rise and fall in price of produce and thereby selfish gain accrue to business houses or a nation's welfare has been pointed-out by some critics, but closer to the truth one would likely come by considering the statements as unconsciously made and given press publicity because of being so far-fetched.

Under our present economic system markets fluctuate. It seems that no steady power can stop the excessive rise in times of scarcity or the drop where production is greater than demand.

At this present time it seems that scarcity is approaching at an alarming rate, even though some governments have been holding in grain, and considering the enormous production.

Millions of people in Russia are said to have died of starvation in the last eighteen months. Only last Saturday a paper contained an article stating that that great aim at self-sustaining country to the south will be in, or in, from Canada about 25,000,000 bushels of grain in the coming year.

Ordinary prices of wheat are said to be at the standard of prices ranging in your life or mine might be set from $0.00 to $1.00 and do or in: what we will, prices of wheat, like water, will find their level.

THE ELECTIONS

By Annie Armstrong
O, can't you feel it in the air
The thrill of it so soon will come;
The fearful conflict everywhere
For Twesdled and Twesdledum.

At last the mighty battle's over;
The Outs are in, or, maybe, Out,
And 'Dum is sad, or, 'De is sore,
For 'Dum and 'Des throw up your hat.

For Twesdled wants in, you see,
So long kept out by Twesdledum
And 'Dum will sure fight fearfully
Be'ore he'll Out agree to come.

The poor poor poorer—Never mind!
The rich are richer—What of that?
Don't interrupt or you'll be fined—
For 'Dum or 'Des throw up your hat.

These little boys 'tween 'Dum and 'Des
The brothers twin—are grand to see
Some say it costs the fans a sum,
And puts "Mock" in Democracy.

Wedding Bells

HAIRE — McLACHLAN

At the Presbyterian church at 3:00 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon last, a wedding was performed by Rev. W. E. Brockie whereby Miss Jean McLachlan became the bride of Robert Haire.

Miss K. McLachlan was bridesmaid and Mr. Chris Haire supported the groom.

Mr. Caspell presided at the organ and rendered the wedding march as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father.

The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm in Gilt Edge district.

Later some sixty guests met at dinner and enjoyed themselves during the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McLachlan, the bride's parents.

KELLY — CASPER

The home of Mrs. E. J. Kelly was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday, October 29th, at 1:00 o'clock, the occasion being the wedding of Miss E. Casper and Robert Kelly. Rev. W. S. Crocker, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Wainwright, performed the ceremony. Miss Casper, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. D. Kelly, as best man. The newly weds will reside on the groom's farm with his mother for the time being.

BIRTLES — PHENNING

By a ceremony performed in St. Andrew's church at 3:00 p.m. on Monday, Miss Marie Phanning became the bride of Fred Birtles, of Wainwright.

The young couple will be absent on a short honeymoon trip before settling on the groom's farm in the Genshield district.

KNUTSON — CARLSON

Joseph Stanley Knutson and Edith Irene Carlson, both of Hughenden, Alberta, were married on Monday afternoon, October 29, at 4:00 o'clock.

The happy couple will spend a short honeymoon in the east before taking up housekeeping on their farm near Hughenden.

Masquerade Party Success

A number of the young people of Wainwright met in the M.A.N. hall on Thursday last to enjoy themselves at a party in the form of a masquerade. Possibly thirty were present, all in costume. And, oh boy, what costumes. There were costumes representing such characters as children—boys in knee pants and girls in short dresses and rompers, little dutch girls and boys, Senoiats, niggers. You should have seen what a fine soldier Andy Anderson made and what a fine plate T. by Harrison made, and what a great Indian Totem pole, Kirk Snyder made. It was an evening of real fun and dancing. Lunch was served at midnight prior to a little entertainment by a number of those present. There was a song by Percy Wilkin, a step dance by Henry Leroux and "Sleepy China Town" by George Gass, and four girls, a piano solo by Ernie Gerard. The party broke up about 2:00 a.m.

Prizes were awarded to M. Ada Wiley and Kirk Snyder.

Sask. Family Finds Greener Fields

After Five Years of Drought in Central Saskatchewan To Settle in Wainwright

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Branchflower have moved their family, farm stock and household goods from Imperial, Saskatchewan, to Wainwright district. Mr. Branchflower was here with relatives for part of the summer and so impressed with the district that he considered it as a "home permanent residence." They have leased a house at the extreme east end of second avenue and expect to establish there for the winter. Imperial district, from which they have moved, is about three hundred miles south and east. It is in the dry belt—and has been so located for the past five years. Like many other parts of the dry belt, the wind has swept up the move sandy land into piles, in places as high as a wagon box, which make it questionable whether the sub soil now exposed would produce paying quantities or not, even if the goodness of luck were to again bless them with rain. The Record Staff joins with this community in welcoming such settlers to the new home.

Of Interest to Stock Raisers

C. C. MacLean, a veterinary surgeon, of Stoughton, Saskatchewan, is in communication with Mayor Forster, of Wainwright. It is very probable that Mr. MacLean will move to Wainwright in the near future. Anyone in the district desirous of information on the new profession of our district may have a meeting on R.

A theatre picture, showing "Jackie Coogan" in "The Kid" will be shown at the Arm Lake School on November 15. Also Mickey Mouse comedy "My Boy." Dance after.

A baptismal service was held at St. Patrick's Anglican Church on Sunday last when three children were baptised. Rev. Anderson took the service.

Mr. Henry Muddle had the misfortune to over turn his car on the Heath road on Sunday morning. Fortunately he escaped injury although the car was badly damaged.

Congratulations to Miss Irene Freed as this winner of a ladies wrist watch as the prize ticket purchaser at Cork's Jewelry Store. There are still a number of tickets and prizes for those who want to see the movie "Death Takes A Holiday," commencing Saturday of this week and also appearing next Monday & Tuesday.

Found Dead On His Farm

After Several Hours Search, George Higginson's Body Located Near Buildings

Friday morning last, the sad and sudden news was passed around Wainwright that a figure well known by old timers here, although a resident of Irma district, had passed on. He was one of the old timers of the district and last February passed the 60th milestone of life.

Deceased met with an accident on his farm five miles north east of Irma. Exactly when, no one knows, but his remains were found some where on his farm after he had been dead a day or so (it is presumed). To mourn him are left his wife, and two daughters, Elizabeth, who is a probationer in an Edmonton hospital, and Marion, attending public school in Irma. A brother also survives who in Edmonton and two sisters, in Ontario.

The funeral was held on October 28th, in Irma, with a large number present to pay respects to the departed one and his sorrowing relatives.

Quality Has No Substitute

"Fresh from the Gardens"

The People's Responsibility

No apology need be offered to the readers of this column, we feel sure, for again discussing the same subject that formed the topic of last week's comment, namely, the ever mounting toll of deaths and serious injuries attributable to automobile accidents. The most effective way of minimizing as far as possible these tragedies is, it will be admitted, the arousing of public opinion because, unless public opinion is aroused, all the preventive laws in the world will not prove effective.

In conversation with the writer the other day a mother of a family, careful, conscientious, intelligent and of the very best type of Canadian citizenship, one who takes a keen and active interest in all movements for the betterment of the community and province in which she lives, stated that only recently she and her husband had had the narrowest of escapes from a serious and probably fatal car accident. Let us recite the simple circumstances.

Driving at a moderate rate, her husband at the wheel came to a point where the making of a left turn was necessary. He proceeded to make it. At the same moment the driver of a car behind them speeding at forty miles an hour decided to pass ahead. Without slackening speed and without sounding his horn in warning to the car ahead, he shot past, thus violating the rules of the road in at least two respects. He side-swiped the car in which the lady and her husband were driving, smashed a headlight to smithereens, tore off the front bumper, and all but wrecked the car. But, added the lady, we too, were to blame because my husband had neglected to put out his hand indicating his intention to make the left turn. Fortunately no person was hurt.

All simple things—failure to sound a horn before attempting to pass the car ahead, failure to reduce speed when overtaking and passing the car ahead, failure of the car ahead to indicate its proposed change of direction, and three lives endangered, several children narrowly escaped being orphaned, two families barely saved from lasting sorrow and much suffering. The laws were sound enough, a policeman right on the spot could not have enforced those laws in time to prevent a tragedy. Two individuals were alone responsible for placing their own lives and that of others in jeopardy. Either one of them could have avoided this near calamity.

It is probable that as these lines are being written other near-accidents of a more or less similar nature are taking place, and possibly serious injuries and even death are the result. Who is to blame? The people themselves. Nobody else. And such accidents will continue and will multiply until people by observing all laws and regulations, and through the exercise of proper caution at all times, put an end to such accidents.

In this article, too, emphasis may well be placed upon the terrible menace of "glaring headlights." They are prohibited by law, yet are to be found upon practically every road and highway every night. Glaring headlights—these blind the driver of any approaching car, making it impossible for him to judge his distance from the approaching car which has blinded him or to see what is ahead of him. And because one car has such lights burning, the other driver refuses to dim his lights, and two high powered cars rush at each other—sometimes they pass safely, sometimes they do not, and all too frequently even when a head-on crash does not result, one or both cars end up in the ditch, or meet some other adverse fate.

The owner of the "glaring lights" is apparently quite reckless and indifferent to the fact that by blinding the driver of approaching cars he may be inviting his own death, because the blinded driver may smash into him; and when driver No. 2 refuses to dim his lights because the other fellow did not, he is multiplying his own risks because he is blinding the other fellow. Again, who is to blame for the catastrophes which so frequently follow? Not the law, because the actions of these car drivers is unlawful. Nor can any army of policemen be maintained along every highway to enforce the law. The best that is possible is to make examples of people when they can be caught.

It is people themselves who are to blame, and it is well nigh impossible to identify the culprit because the glaring lights renders the taking of car license number extremely difficult. It is public opinion that must first be aroused and educated to put a stop to these violations. It is not legislators, governments and police forces which alone have responsibility in this matter; the greatest responsibility rests with the individual citizen. And until individual citizens in far greater numbers than at present discharge that responsibility, humanity must pay the price, and this terrible blot rest upon our much vaunted civilization.

Japan Starts At Six

Boys Begin Their Military Training At Early Age

Italy has started to train all boys from the age of eight years; but that is two years later than the time set in Japan where boys begin their military education at the age of six, having red rifles and machine guns but with blank cartridges at twelve years of age. Every Japanese boy imbibes the philosophy that it is a great and glorious thing to die for the emperor and for Japan. It will be remembered that Japan has evolved a new kind of submarine, guided by a man inside who steers it at a warship or other target, knowing that impact means not only explosion of the torpedo but death to himself; yet it is said there are more volunteers than available torpedoes.

In Seventeenth Century Tea Was Supposed To Be Slimming

Tea, in the seventeenth century, was recommended as a means of slimming. In an exhibition now in the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, of English silverware, work is quoted an old advertisement which says that China Tea was "Tis 'Tis Tea" is "of great avail to men of corpulent bodies and to such as eat meat." Apparently the ladies were not so keen on slimming in those days. Tea-drinking, anyhow, must have been rather a trial when it was first introduced into this country, for the small bowls out of which the liquid was drunk had no handles, and people were compelled to hold them by the lip or poised in their fingers.

Census Taker Turns Dentist

Extracted Teeth For Indians During Tour Of James Bay Area

When Rev. J. Emile Sanderson went to work for the Dominion bureau of statistics, he was a competent census taker, but to-day, as a result of his official labors, he is a first-rate amateur dentist.

He was engaged by the bureau to take a census of the Indians living along the eastern shore of James Bay. But he found that wherever he went in pursuit of figures, he was met by appeals from folkies to extract their aching teeth.

At one remote spot he sat down and solemnly pulled out Indians' teeth for several hours. Altogether he made more than 100 extractions during his tour.

Making It Clear

K. C. Banks proposed to post himself to British Columbia, and thought it advisable that he should be marked: "This way up." In the event of his deciding on air mail, and yet wishing to wear a hat, the following note on past history may be useful. Toward the end of the war a gadget was obtained for the R.A.F. which the makers marked: "To be stored upside down." The air ministry added the instruction: "To avoid confusion, the bottom should be called the top."

Heart disease held third place among causes of death in the United States in 1900; in 1930 it had become the leading cause.

WHAT DOES YOUR HANDWRITING REVEAL?

By LAWRENCE HILBERT (Grapho-Analyst) (All Rights Reserved)

(Editor's Note: Not for a long time, has a series of articles aroused much interest as this series on Character from Handwriting. Hundreds of readers have written, requesting a personal analysis of their own writing, and the author invites you to send in for a reading. See the announcement at the foot of the article.)

This week, a gentleman from out West wrote to ask me for my advice. He is a widower, with two young children, and feels that he should marry again, so that his children will have the proper attention.

He has been corresponding with several ladies, and sends me specimens of his own writing, and that of his several correspondents, with a view of ascertaining which one is most suitable for him.

His own writing is that of a quiet unassuming man. There is little aggressiveness shown in his writing, and he is of a rather shy nature, somewhat reserved—not because he does not feel things but because his nature is reserved. He has a deep capacity for feeling, but is backward in expressing that emotion.

His nature has a good deal of generosity. And he has a very cultured mind. He has good literature, and art will have an especial fascination for him.

The writing of the lady I shall call No. 1 shows a very emotional nature. She is at the beck and call of her emotions. She has quick temper, likely to flare out at any time, and will very likely do things, and say things, that in that mood, for the time being, will be sorry afterwards—after the damage is done.

She is generous, and there is a good deal of affection in her nature. And she exudes energy. She must be always on the go.

She is a person that expresses itself in bridge parties, organizing teas and social gatherings. She will be in her element as a club organizer.

Taking up the writing of No. 2, I find a totally different personality. She has an even temperament, well balanced, and unlikely to be either too reserved on the one hand, or of the hysterical type on the other. She has a calm and normal temperament. She displays quite a lot of generosity. She has good literature, and but will rarely get excited. She has a neat and orderly mind, and is a good home-builder. She too, is affectionate, but she is also kindly, and is considerate of others.

I do not have to devote very much attention to No. 3. She has all the qualities that will make my correspondent happy. She will not jar his susceptibilities, but will be an enthusiastic and attentive to his children, and she will make him a good wife.

Let this well-known Grapho-Analyst tell you the secrets revealed by your handwriting. He will also tell you the secrets of the mind. Send specimens of the writing you want analyzed, and enclose 10c coin for each. Send with 3c stamped addressed envelope, to: Lawrence Hilbert, care of Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, Man. All letters are strictly confidential, and replies will be sent as soon as possible, but please allow about two weeks for my reply.

Toronto Man Picks A Hundred Choice Samples Of Fruit From Tree

From a frail-looking banana tree left over from the Jamaica exhibition at the Canadian National Exhibition two years ago, Arthur J. Frost has picked about 100 bananas which are said to be superior in flavor to the imported fruit.

He planted the tree in his greenhouse in Toronto and early this year it reached such a height the roof had to be raised. Buds appeared in April, turned up like coils of corn. Further down they ripened. There are still 100 bananas, varying in degrees of ripeness, on the tree.

Exhibition Of Inventors

Rubber Collar Stud One Of New Gadgets Shown

A humane collar button guaranteed not to torture the wearer by digging into his neck, was among hundreds of newly patented devices displayed at the Exhibition of Inventors, which was opened in London recently.

Made of rubber, the new stud is attached to the shirt to make dressing easier, and its inventor says it can withstand laundering.

Most of the exhibits were gadgets to make housekeeping simpler. There was a combination brush and pan that lifts dust by pressure on the handle, an automatic window cleaner that does away with the use of a squeegee, and a self-emptying bread box.

One ambitious entrant exhibited double-sided neckties, and another showed an egg-opener that lifts the top of a boiled egg neatly off without cutting the yolk.

There were more pretentious exhibits, too. One was a four-legged frame on wheels for teaching the baby to walk. Another was a "visual piano" with apparatus that produces color corresponding to the notes and rhythm of the music.

A hopeful inventor from Somerset exhibited a new device for prepanning, which he said was already being used in several hospitals.

The British building boom was reflected in an unusually large number of simple locks for doors, sink filters, adjustable draught excluders and new compositions for making bricks.

Takes Place Of Sails

"Autogyro Aeroplane Windmill" Is Success In Tests

A most interesting experiment, which may be attended with important results, has been tried out by Lieut.-Colonel Moore-Brabazon, M.P., noted British aviator. He has constructed a boat with what is called "autogyro aeroplane windmill" to take the place of sails. The principle of the autogyro is applied to the sailing vessel, with this important difference—that the blades are fitted to the mast vertically, looking like a windmill's arms. It is reported that the method has come fully up to expectations, the boat making almost as good headway against the wind as with it, the blades being rotated by the wind from whatever quarter it blows. In a twenty-mile-an-hour wind the blades turn at 200 revolutions per minute, at which rate the tips of the blades are travelling at 200 miles per hour. Once the autogyro is rotating, there is nothing else to be done aboard but steer. Results of the experiment are now receiving the expert consideration of the Royal Aeronautical Society.—Hamilton Spectator.

Mostly Pedestrians

More than 7,000 road accidents which resulted in 7,202 deaths were analyzed by British police, who found that 219 of the dead were drivers of motor cars, while, 3,517 were pedestrians, 1,324 bicyclists and 1,308 motorcyclists.

Young People's Training

Appeal Is Made For Support Of Recreational Centres

An appeal to Canadians to rally to the support of young people's training and recreational centres was made at Montreal by A. O. Dawson, president of the Canadian chamber of commerce, coincident with the campaign of financial federations now in progress, in Winnipeg and Vancouver.

"In the absence of a job and the opportunity limited to so few for higher education, community centres which depend upon the voluntary support of private citizens are the last line of defence between restless youth and demoralizing idleness," Mr. Dawson declared.

Old Reliable Remedy Still Best For Chapped Skin

Rough, chapped hands are irritating and ugly. They are also a source of danger from infection, when the skin becomes very raw and cracked from exposure.

The old reliable remedy—Hind's Hony and Almond Cream—is still a favorite remedy after being on the market for over 20 years. Ever since 1875 this soothing, healing lotion has been the choice of men and women in every walk of life, for its instant relief from suffering, rapid healing and remarkable protective qualities.

In cold weather, hands, neck and face need protection to keep them free from chapping and danger of infection. Hind's Hony and Almond Cream is easy to use—quickly absorbed by the skin and leaves no trace of stickiness. Men like it after shaving. Any druggist can supply you.

Bones Of Gigantic Animal Found On Ontario Farm

Charles Jeffery, farmer near Windsor, Ont., reported he had found on his farm remains of a gigantic animal with teeth weighing from three to five pounds. He said he had dug up five teeth, all of them in a good state of preservation.

Jeffery declared he had found another bone which he believed to be part of the animal's foreleg, weighing more than 10 pounds. The bones were about two feet below the surface.

ACTION NEEDED TO AID SITUATION IN DROUTH AREAS

Winnipeg.—A plea directed to every corner of the Dominion for aid in rehabilitating the drouth areas in Western Canada has gone forth from Premier John Bracken of Manitoba.

Vismulating the "sain-parched and dust-ridden wastes was a spectacle replete with crop failure, food shortage and human suffering that should be eliminated from the agricultural panoramas of Canada, the Manitoba premier appealed to provincial premiers to institute a vigorous campaign to bring the problem Dominion-wide attention.

Speaking to the Canadian Club here, Mr. Bracken first told of the critical situation he had found while investigating the drouth areas. Crop failures in large areas of Saskatchewan, in parts of southeastern Alberta and in southwestern Manitoba had played havoc with the agricultural and, consequently, the social fabrics of those areas.

Relief money from municipal, provincial and federal coffers had been expended. But relief money, he contended, did not remedy the situation. Drouths would recur in cycles and unless rehabilitative measures were taken their results would take on more aggravated forms.

Upon the whole Dominion lay the responsibility of attacking the question.

Mr. Bracken pleaded for reclamation of the drouth areas, rehabilitation of the farms, a conservation plan over the entire prairie and sound development of all resources.

"The problem has now assumed proportions of national scope," Mr. Bracken declared. What is needed is:

"The offer by provinces of services of such technical men and departments, without charge, as can be utilized in prosecution of such a major project;

"Appointment by the Dominion of a co-ordinating body to correlate efforts being made in a variety of directions by many individuals, both in and out of the public service, and by many departments both of governments and universities.

"Provision by the Dominion for the necessary additional agencies to ensure successful carrying out of a sane, well-balanced program over the next 10 years;

"Active and sympathetic and generous co-operation of individuals, communities, railways and governments in a joint effort to solve a major problem."

Want Wage Rate Restored

Canadian Railway Running Trades Advance Arguments

Montreal.—A plea there was no reason for Canadian railways not to follow the lead of United States and return to basic wage rates by April 1, 1935, was advanced here by Canadian railway running trades' spokesmen at the continuation of their conferences with Canadian Pacific and Canadian National officials, it was learned.

Heads of the Canadian railway running trades represent 35,000 men in their own unions and 65,000 in other sections of rail labor.

Increase of car loadings was understood to be another reason advanced by the men that the time had come for restoration of former wage schedules.

Debaters Start Tour

Halifax.—Opening a debating tour which will take them across Canada, two English undergraduates, Robert Chrison of Oxford and Leslie Jackson of Cambridge defeated Dalhousie University when they upheld the affirmative on the subject: "Resolved that this house deprecates the rise of Fascism."

Would Build For Defence

Washington.—Japan is preparing to demand an agreement under which the three leading naval powers would build no more "offensive" vessels. This became known in an authoritative source as details of the Japanese position at the naval conversations in London were disclosed.

Trial Starts In January

Flemington, N.J.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann entered a personal plea not guilty to a charge of murdering the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, and Supreme Court Justice Thomas E. Trenchard fixed January 2, 1935, as the date for trial.

King George Sends Approval

Praises Work in Canada In Spreading Ideals of League

Ottawa.—Warm approval by the King of the second national study project of the League of Nations Society in Canada was expressed in a cablegram received from His Majesty by Hon. Ernest LaPointe, president of the society.

"I have learned with pleasure and approval of the work of the League of Nations Society in Canada in spreading a knowledge of the ideals and work of the League of Nations," said His Majesty. "It is vitally necessary for the promotion of peace and co-operation between peoples that public opinion in all countries should thoroughly understand and appreciate the activities of the league in the task of maintaining, through collective international action, peace and good order in the world. The people of the British Empire have borne and will continue to bear a heavy share of this work and I wish every success to the League of Nations Society in Canada in the execution of their plans for the coming winter."

For Naval Equality

Japanese Present Their Claim To U.S. Representatives

London.—The Japanese presented their claim for naval equality to representatives of the United States, as they had done in meetings with the British. No action was taken and no official statements were issued, but it seemed obvious that a long and knotty discussion faced the representatives of the world's three leading naval powers.

British and Americans feel that the existing treaties already contain sufficient guarantees for equality in security. Japan would sweep away the existing treaties and replace them with an entirely new structure.

In a nutshell, Japan is firm in its determination to remove the existing ratio basis, on which naval categories of Britain, the United States and Japan are fixed on a 5-5-3 ratio respectively. If the other powers will not join in abrogating the Washington treaty, then she will abrogate it unilaterally—Independently.

United Farm Women

Mrs. Goodale Heads Organization In Manitoba

Brandon, Man.—Mrs. M. J. Goodale, Portage la Prairie, was re-elected president of the United Farm Women of Manitoba at its annual convention here. Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Arbor, was re-elected vice-president.

Discussions on naturalization, sterilization of mentally defective persons and prohibition of the farm occupied the delegates. Resolutions of the organization will be submitted to the general session with the United Farmers of Manitoba for consideration.

Regulate Potato Marketing

Ottawa.—A decision to apply for the setting up of a scheme under the Natural Products Marketing Act to regulate the marketing of potatoes in eastern Canada was practically reached at a session of the potato conference, representing growers, dealers and governments in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. The conference is attempting to work out plans for orderly marketing of the present bumper potato crop in order to ensure the farmers as good as possible a return.

Remembrance Day

Ottawa.—The "great silence" between 11 a.m. and 11:02 a.m. on November 11 will be observed in Canada, and the government has issued instructions to provincial and municipal authorities to arrange for suspension of all vehicular traffic during those two minutes. Railway and water transport will not be suspended.

Defends Beauty Operations

Chicago.—A defence of the use of the surgeon's knife for the sake of beauty alone when the psychological benefit to be derived by the patient is great, was voiced by Sir Harold Gillies, noted London surgeon. He pleaded for recognition of "esthetic surgery" and referred to plastic surgery as "the Cinderella of surgery."

Plan To Tattoo Soldiers

Washington.—Every United States soldier would be tattooed under a plan now before the war department. As a means of identifying dead and wounded, tattooing is advocated by Lieutenant C. L. Whittle of Fort Ontario, N.Y., in The Infantry Journal, General publication of the Infantry Association.

Drouth In China

Damage Is Expected To Reach Amount Exceeding $1,200,000,000

Shanghai, China.—The losses to the Chinese farmers and peasants occasioned by the prolonged drouth and record heat wave of the past spring and summer are expected to exceed $1,200,000,000, according to a report issued by the national famine relief commission, which is based on reports received from the stricken districts.

In the 10 provinces, 263 districts have sent in reports declaring a total of approximately 26,750,000 acres of cultivated lands have been affected by the drouth.

When all surveys are completed, it is expected the drouth losses will reach a more appalling total than even the very pessimistic estimate of the national famine relief commission.

A survey conducted by the department of agricultural economics of the national agricultural research bureau of the ministry of industries reveals damage caused by the drouth in the two provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang alone is in excess of $528,800,000. The area affected in these two provinces is only about one-third of the total area of the 10 provinces hit by the drouth.

Reduce Liquor Prices

Manitoba Commission Faced With Competition From Bootleggers

Winnipeg.—An intensive police drive on bootleggers is under way as the Manitoba government liquor control commission, faced with fierce competition from this source, announced reduced prices on Canadian gin sold in liquor stores.

The commission announced Canadian-made gin would be reduced 25 cents per 26-ounce bottle to $2.50, and 40-ounce size to $3.80, a cut of 50 cents. Small variations in prices according to quality will be set.

CODES FOR LABOR TO BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

Montreal.—Governmental codes for industry in Canada patterned after the N.R.A. codes of the United States insofar as minimum wages and hours of labor are concerned will be discussed at the forthcoming conference of representatives of all the provincial governments at Toronto, the Gazette says.

"Hon. C. J. Arcand, Quebec minister of labor, will attend," the paper continues, and it may be that he will challenge the worth of governmental codes fixing minimum wages and hours of labor for male workers as against that of juridical extensions of collective labor agreements, as existing at present in this province.

"In other words, it may be held that so far as the fixing of labor conditions for men, it is better that employers and employees be permitted to come to an agreement among themselves, and juridically extend such agreements, than have governmental interference."

This procedure, the Gazette states, was held by Quebec authorities to be a better solution of present-day labor problems than that of governmental interference.

NEW ZEALAND'S GOVERNOR-GENERAL AT HOME

Here is a picture of Viscount and Viscountess Galway with their children in the grounds of their home, Seribai Hill, Bawtrey, Yorkshire. The King has approved the appointment of Viscount Galway to be Governor-General of New Zealand in succession to Lord Bledisloe, whose term of office expires shortly.

BRITAIN'S ENVOY

Win Air Derby

England's Brilliant Airmen Finished First In Handicap As Well As Speed Race

Melbourne, Australia.—An unofficial check indicated England's brilliant airmen, C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, finished first in the handicap as well as the speed race in the England-Melbourne derby. Their official time was 70 hours, 59 minutes, 50 seconds.

But the Dutch entry, which came in 19 hours and 18 minutes behind Scott and Black, and two hours and 42 minutes ahead of the American team of Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, stands an excellent chance of getting the handicap first prize of $10,000.

Under the rules for the derby a pilot cannot win prizes in both races, but must choose between them.

Should Panamerica and Moll get the $10,000 handicap prize, the second prize of $7,500 in the speed race would go to Turner and Pangborn. At any rate the Americans are assured of the $2,500 third prize in the speed race.

Purchase Land In Alberta

Two Colonies Of Hutterites Have Settled Near Lethbridge

Lethbridge, Alta.—Purchase of 11,000 acres of farm lands in the Chin district, near Lethbridge, at a cost of $10,000 by the Hutterite brethren was confirmed. Two colonies of Hutterites will occupy the land of which 5,000 acres are ready for crop next spring. One block was formerly owned by R. C. Harvey, Lethbridge sheep rancher. The other was sold by the Canadian Pacific Railway lands department.

Wins Provincial Honors

Edmonton.—Junior calf club teams from Lacombe and Olds won provincial honors in stock judging competitions here and will get free trips to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, where they will represent Alberta in the Dominion finals. Wylie Thomson and Walter Dunkley of Olds won the Junior Dairy Calf Club team. Henry Magilton and Edward Chesor of Lacombe were victors in the Beef Calf Club finals.

Flight Was A Success

Trip Into Stratosphere Quite Satisfactory Stated Mrs. Picard

Cadiz, Ohio.—The stratosphere flight of Mrs. Jean Picard came to an end today. The bag of her balloon was badly torn, but the gondola and valuable instruments were undamaged and the Picards themselves were unhurt.

The Picards, saying they believed the purpose of their flight had been accomplished, brought the huge bag down after a flight that started from Detroit and carried them an estimated 10 miles into the air.

"The flight was a success," said Mrs. Picard soon after she climbed from the gondola which settled among trees near an old logging road on the John Fulton farm, four and one-half miles southwest of here.

Clay Cooper, a farmer, made a valiant attempt to halt the balloon as it drifted slowly a short distance above the ground, its ropes dragging.

He grabbed a rope and attempted to tie it to a tractor. The floating balloon pulled the rope from his hands and the balloon then scraped the top of a 75-foot elm, the branches tearing the bag badly but not damaging the gondola. The landing, while abrupt, merely shook up the Swiss scientist and his wife.

Community Chest Campaign

Relief For Families That Might Otherwise Be Destroyed

Vancouver.—"There are families today who are in danger of complete disruption," G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.L.A., declared in a public address in behalf of Community Chest campaigns now in progress in various cities of Canada. "In their homes the health of children is being imperiled."

"Now," Mr. McGeer continued, "whether this condition arises from lack of income or from other cause, wise private social service not forced upon the family by the government can often bring relief that means the rehabilitation of a family that might otherwise be destroyed."

Taxes On Range Lands

New Base For Levy Urged Before Alberta Board

Calgary.—A plea that taxes on range lands be levied according to productive, rather than fictitious value of land was made by Jack Byers, of the Western Stockgrowers' Association, when he appeared before the Alberta tax inquiry board which was holding sessions in Calgary.

Mr. Byers also urged that arrears of taxes be worked out in forms of range improvements which would promote more efficient land utilization, and that there be a flat rate of taxation that stockmen can afford to pay, with proper provision for collection.

TO ESTABLISH AN OPEN LONDON GRAIN AGENCY

Winnipeg.—Establishment of a grain agency at London will be entirely independent of Canadian wheat pools and other export agencies, David L. Smith, former foreign representative of the pools' central selling agency, said here. He will sail for England early in November.

Mr. Smith will operate as an independent private trader. At London he will establish a sample market where Canadian grains can be inspected and their qualities discussed with European buyers. Through this medium he is hopeful of establishing a contact that will assist materially in the sale of Canadian wheat and other grains abroad.

In England Mr. Smith acts as the accredited representative of a number of Canadian export houses, including the Alberta and Saskatchewan wheat pools. He believed earlier report which said the agency had been decided upon as a joint effort of several Canadian export houses and the two pools, carried a wrong impression. He will act as salesman on his own account.

Calgary.—Establishment of David L. Smith, of Winnipeg, as a grain agent in London to increase sales of Canadian grains will be entirely independent of the Alberta wheat pool, R. D. Purdy, manager of the pool, said. Anything Mr. Smith may accomplish will be separate from the pool's efforts in the export field.

"Mr. Smith is going to London as a salesman on his own account, I understand," Mr. Purdy said. "If he succeeds he may be able to do some business with us. But I would like to make it clear that he is entirely independent of the Alberta wheat pool."

PRICE SPREADS COMMISSION TO RESUME WORK

Ottawa.—Fish, livestock marketing and packing, canning, milking and baking, textile and agriculture implement industries will be investigated by the price spreads and mass buying, Commission Minister of commerce.

Trade and Commerce H. H. Stevens. Further evidence, in addition, will be submitted on the effect of mass buying by large-scale merchandising establishments. Government auditors will submit their report relative to chain store merchandising in Canada, and evidence will be submitted as to the position of the consumer in relation to various questions that have arisen.

The first subject to be considered by the commission will be the marketing of fish. A brief report on this subject was presented to the parliamentary committee last June by L. W. Fraser, of Halifax, as a result of a survey made by him. Arrangements have now been made to secure further evidence on this subject from witnesses representing various phases of the fishing industry.

It is expected that evidence on the following questions also will be submitted to the commission:

1. Livestock marketing and the packing industry. This was dealt with by the parliamentary committee but additional information has been secured and will be presented.

2. Canning industry. A report will be submitted by the auditors which will, it is hoped, throw light on the economic and financial structure of the industry and its relation to both consumers and producers.

3. Milling and baking industries. A complete study of these industries has been made and will be presented, special attention having been given to the development of the mill-controlled bakeries.

4. Textile and agricultural implement industries. The auditors will submit reports on these industries which will present a picture of their financial structure and labor and wage conditions.

5. Further evidence will be submitted as to the effect of mass dealing on the part of large-scale merchandising establishments.

6. A complete report has been made by the auditors in connection with chain store merchandising in Canada, and will be presented to the commission.

7. Finally, it is anticipated that evidence will be submitted as to the position of the consumer in relation to the various questions that have arisen, and will be presented, the desirability of consumers' standards and consumer protection against fraudulent and unethical merchandising.

Trail Of Death

Maniac In Quebec Runs Amuck And Kills Six People

Quebec.—Bodies of four persons, a man and three women, were at the morgue today. The bodies of the white police were searching woods near Ste. Therese, Que., for the bodies of two men whom J. Roaie Biledeau, 45, admitted having killed.

The trail of death, Biledeau stated, began when he drove two of his cousins, Gaston Guivin, 20, and Fernan Guivin, 18, into the woods. Leaving his car he led them into the woods, killing them.

Then he returned to Quebec and took his two sisters, Marie Biledeau, 63, and Roaie Biledeau, 62, and Yvette Guivin, 21, his niece, to another point in the woods. They also were shot.

Biledeau, a former postal employee, then burst in on the Quebec post office, slaying Octave Fiat, divisional superintendent of the Quebec postal service, and injuring Postmaster J. G. L. Morin critically and Moose Jolicoeur, senior mail clerk, superficially. Biledeau, after being overpowered in the post office, was taken to police headquarters, where under questioning he told police of five additional slayings. Police immediately took him to St. Thomas d'Acadia, where he led them to the bodies of the three women, his two sisters and Yvette Guivin.

Praise For Ferguson

Montreal.—Admiration for the vigor in which Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner in London, is pressing Canada's case for a larger share of the lumber market in Great Britain was expressed by C. E. Denny, head of a large London timber firm, who arrived here in the liner Acadia.

Plan Liberal Meeting

From The Lloydminster Times

Mr. John Pallance, M.P., our sitting Federal Member of Parliament, visited Lloydminster on Wednesday 17th October. In the evening he met a number of the prominent Liberals here and had a round-table conference with them, discussing principally steps to be taken to make the principles of Liberalism better known throughout this position of his constituency. It was at this gathering that the decision was made to hold a public meeting here on the evening of Wednesday, 7th November. The meeting, of which notice appears in another column, will be addressed by Mr. Martin Forster the Liberal candidate for election to Ottawa from the adjacent Alberta constituency, Battle River, and Mr. Vallance.

It is expected that there will be an excellent attendance at this meeting. It will be Mr. Forster's first appearance here and those who heard Mr. Vallance at Sandy Beach will not miss this opportunity of again listening to him. He is a forceful, in creating speaker, thoroughly well posted, of course.

(By Betty Barclay)

CORN FLAKE MACAROONS

2 eggs whites
1 cup sugar
2 cups corn flakes
1/2 cup nutmeats
1 cup coconut
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Beat egg whites until they are stiff enough to hold their shape, but not until they lose their shiny appearance. Fold in sugar carefully. Fold in corn flakes, nutmeats and coconut. Add vanilla. Drop on a well greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove pans from oven, place on damp towel and remove macaroons immediately with a spatula or sharp knife. If macaroons become hardened to pan, they may be put in the oven for a few minutes to soften. A standard measuring tablespoon which has a round bowl may be used for shaping the macaroons.

CHICKEN AND RICE SUFFLE

1 1/2 cups chicken, diced
1 cup cooked rice
1/2 cup chicken gravy
2 eggs, beaten

Mix chicken and rice. Season with salt and moisten well with gravy, add well beaten yolks and carefully fold in the beaten whites. Bake in a moderate oven until golden brown on top.

Efforts Met With Success

Boy Paralytic Helped By Two Teachers Learned To Speak

Voluntary instruction by two Omaha speech-education teachers has enabled Billy, Coleman, nine-year-old paralytic to speak for the first time. Stricken with infantile paralysis when he was 11 months old, Billy was unable to get about by himself and his handicap was made greater by his inability to speak.

Although he received the finest treatment at the municipal hospital his vocal sense did not respond to treatment until he was placed in the care of Miss Allen Lillegren, speech education supervisor of the Omaha public schools, and Miss Edna Jackson of the speech education department.

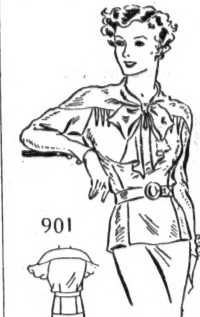

When Billy first came to the attention of the teachers he was unable to move his tongue, lower his jaw or close his lips. He was deficient in 37 of the 40 sounds used in normal speech.

Billy's first lesson was to learn to say "ah", according to Miss Lillegren. She let Billy touch her throat, face and mouth as she enunciated the simple syllable. Since his hearing was normal she also instructed him in the position of the tongue in making the sound.

Through his grim determination to learn to speak and a power of concentration, which Miss Lillegren said was unequalled, Billy now speaks almost normally.

Little Journeys In Science

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Recently a French silk manufacturer (displayed) eighty-six different shades of the color green, showing to what perfection the art of dyeing has been brought. Thought to have originated in India many centuries ago, dyeing was at first confined to the production of just three colors, red, obtained from the madder plant; blue from indigo, and purple, from shellfish. These early dyes were of fine quality and are still to be seen in the mummy cloths in archaic collections. These cloths glow with rich colorings of purple and red.

In the city of Florence, Italy, a method of preparing purple dye from certain lichens, was discovered in the fourteenth century, and in 1472 the first dye company was incorporated in London. It was not, however, until the eighteenth century, when scientists interested themselves in the perfection of dyeing processes, that the industry became the important one that it is today. Coal-tar products were introduced into the process in 1856 by a young British chemist, William Henry Perkins. Perkins was working with aniline, a substance taken from coal tar, in an effort to find quinine. Instead, he discovered amazing coloring properties of certain aniline compounds, which led to a broader field, revealing dye properties in a large number of coal tar products. His work, which resulted in cheaper and more versatile dyes, brought him a fortune and a knighthood, while industry was furnished with the means for the utilization of coal tar, which had hitherto been considered useless.

Artificial dyes are superior to those found in nature because of their much greater variety and adaptability, qualities which are continually being further developed in chemical laboratories.

Motion Picture Is Written About California Scientist

Dr. Robert E. Corneil's feat of restoring life processes to a dog which had been put to death chemically is to be used as the climax of a motion picture written about the life of the Berkeley, Calif., scientist.

Carl Laemmle, president of a film company, said photographic and sound recording made at the time the experiment was performed would be used in the picture, to be called "Life Returns."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 4

CHRISTIAN GROWTH

Golden text: "But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." 2 Peter 3:18. Lesson: Luke 2:42-52; 2 Peter 1:5-8. Devotional reading: Proverbs 4:10, 19.

Explanations and Comments

How Jesus Grew, Luke 2:42-52. For thirty years the life of Jesus was uneventful. He lived in Nazareth among the hills of Lower Galilee, and wrought at Joseph's bench as a carpenter. The only event in all that time that has been recorded is his going to Jerusalem, eighty miles southward, to keep the Passover with Mary and Joseph. The story of that Passover we have studied four times in the past year, and explanations are not needed.

The account closes with these words: And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men. God chose to send his Son into the world as a helpless babe, to attain a perfect manhood through all the natural stages of human growth, physical, mental, and spiritual. He was larger and wiser at twelve than at two, and at thirty than at twelve; he had a glimpse of his high calling at twelve which he did not have at two, and a realization of it at thirty which he did not have at twelve.

Exhortation to Growth in Righteousness, 2 Peter 1:5-8. God hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that called us by his own glory and virtue; whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through them ye may become partakers of the divine nature; these are the words that precede our text. Now we read that for this very cause, because God has granted all this, there is much to be done on our part.

What shall I render unto Jehovah for all his benefits toward me? The Psalmist questions. There is much that I must render. They call for diligent endeavor on my part; first, in my faith to supply virtue. The Authorized Version exhorts us to add virtue to another, but the Greek means "to develop one virtue in the exercise of another. Each grace here mentioned is contained in the next, "as a series of Chinese boxes." "As we address ourselves to the acquisition of one grace, it becomes a source out of which we can develop another. Everything in Christian experience is orderly and progressive. Each quality is a kind of soil or atmosphere in which its successor is nourished." (John Gardner).

Jack Miner

By Jack Herity Of Belleville, Ontario

He must pack a heap of pleasure Underneath his shaggy dome; Now its getting on to autumn And his birds are coming home. It must stir up all his senses In a kind of inside grin When he gazes down the Southway and Sees his squadrons winging in.

Must be like a mighty merchant, When his ships come one by one, To the harbor where there's quiet And retreat from pirate's gun. First! That's the right name for us, Oh, I'm guilty, same as you, For I've often sent them tumbling, Broken, tattered, from the blue.

I have lain for hours listening For that thrilling cry, And to see an old commander Lead his flock across the sky; But—well there above the fireplace You can see my guns to-day, And they're mighty ornamental Since I've went down Kingsville way.

Angels used to be right common, If I believe what I've heard say; But a scientist will tell you We don't have such things to-day. Still I guess if we could see things In a sort of spirit light, We would find Jack Miner's raiment Is a robe of shining white.

Hospital For Unemployed

Alberta Relief Commission Opening Up Home For Care Of Alling People

A modern hotel, formerly used as a convalescent hospital for returned soldiers, has been purchased by the Alberta relief commission for the care of sick and aged unemployed able-bodied men, it was announced at Calgary.

Located at Ogden, six miles from Calgary, it will be operated as a hospital and home for the sick and aged unemployed; and when it is opened, about November 1, will house between 150 and 200 men. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Hon. H. W. Allen, who inspected the building, stated it would be used not only for Calgary cases but for sick jobless men from other parts of the province.

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY
Author of "The Coronado Trail",
"The Canyon Trail", Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Flour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Elone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wilderness outfit.

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector, is returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Flour-Glass cattle and protests against it.

Joe Carr's daughter, Edith, repulses Dustin when he wished to make her acquaintance, saying when she walked with a man, it would not be with a squaw man. He plans revenge, but has had no opportunity so far. Affairs on the ranch going from bad to worse, Joe Carr takes to drink.

(Now Go On With The Story)

Spike gaped at him. Then very slowly realization came. His eyes gleamed and his red face got redder and his wire-stiff beard seemed to bristle like the mane of an angry horse.

"You know how those damned old fools of prospectors talk. They matters worse old Kane can square himself with Joe Carr by letting him in on what he found on the Flour-Glass land. See now?"

Never saw any one to talk to in six months. When they do get a chance

"That's easy. . . ." Dustin drew a breath of relief. To plan as he had planned in the last ten minutes was one thing. But man planning deviant needs help. He knew that he could count on Spike as never before. Dustin went on:

"You and me, Spike, have made too much of the Hour-glass to let it ever get into court. Even old man Carr, with all his drunken rambles, don't know what we've milked him for. Thank the Lord we've been too careful to show the source of our income but. . . . We've got a nicewad of cash right now in the office safe. Too dangerous to put it in the Seco bank. I figured we might need it for a get-away if some one spills the beans. . . . Like old Dad Kane. He can do it any minute he chooses to open his mouth and talk. The matter boils down to this job. Old Dad Kane has come in here with the finest ore we've ever seen. It was found on the Hour-glass lands and old man Carr doesn't know of it. While he was looking for that ore, old Kane found some of our men at work and can send us to jail for what he saw 'em doin'. Get me? You know what's got to be done. I needn't name it. What's the answer?"

Spike Goddard knew that answer but like his partner he dared not put it in speech. Dustin finally dared it.

"Old Kane has got to show us where he found the stuff and then he's got to disappear," he said.

For a long moment silence fell; a silence in which a crisis in the war chirped loudly and the ticking of the cheap clock on the table sounded like the crack 'o' doom. Spike poured himself another drink. He needed it badly. He knew what was meant.

"How?" he asked hoarsely.

"The less you know personally about it the better for us both," said Dustin. "It's a one-man job and I trust no other man where my own life is at stake. All I say is that I'm not going to jail to please old man Kane or Carr either. Suit you?"

"It sure does. . . ." Spike had sudden visions of himself in a striped suit and he did not admire it. "I'll help you. . . ."

"Help me hell," said Dustin fiercely. "I tell you it's a one-man job."

One-and-a-half that is. First I'm going in to Seco on business. Be sure you keep old Dad Kane here. Don't let him leave on any excuse. Tell him I've gone to make arrangements for him to go back to open the mine. Keep him here till I get back. I want to find out all I can about old man Kane's finances."

"Huh. From all I hear he ain't got a cent. How'd you find out?"

"I've got ways you never thought of."

"Dustin grinned as a coyote grin at sight of game. "The really big thing for us just now is to make Kane show us exactly where his location is. It'd be right bright to have him disappear and then find out we don't know where he found the gold."

He poured himself another drink and picked up his hat.

"I'll be on my way," he said. "Be sure you ride herd on Kane."

Spike watched the departing car and when its following dust-cloud was swallowed up turned away to the kitchen.

He was under no illusions as to what Dustin meant when he said that Kane must disappear. During the many years of their partnership he had seen some curious things. Sometimes he thought that that very partnership was the only reason for their mutual safety. Either could hang the other by too much talk. He knew Dustin was cautious and ruthless and he knew suddenly that his "find" of old man Kane would put them both beyond any further need of more money. Dustin was right.

"He'll probably bring home the bacon," he muttered. "Even if he has to kill somebody else's hog to get it."

"That was exactly what Sam Dustin proposed to do. He knew that the conscienceless suit over Soda Springs had cost Carr more than he had. He knew that the Broken Spur depredations on the herds of the Hour-glass had put that ranch in the red. He was sure that Joe Carr must owe a lot of money and he meant to find out to whom he owed it. Dustin believed in the strong hand and he knew that Solomon was right when he said: "The borrower is servant to the lender." It was dark when he parked his car before the sheet-fronted saloon in Seco. He strode down the main street, turned off at a dark alley and stopped at a little frame bungalow set well back in a clump of dusty Chinaberry trees. The door flew open at his knock and, almost instantly, an old woman holding a stinking kerosene lamp above her head, stood facing him.

"Evensin! Miss Peters," he said civilly enough. "Sim in?"

"He went for the mail," said Mrs. Peters. "He ought to be back in a minute. Come in, Miss! Dustin. There comes him now," she added.

Expert Skin Grafting

London Surgeon Describes Remarkable Results That Can Be Attained

A method of detouring living skin from one part of the body to another to improve plastic surgery was described to the American College of Surgeons at Boston by Sir Harold Gillies, London surgeon.

The detouring of skin is one of the latest bits of skill. By its use skin, without even losing its living connection with the patient's own blood supply, can be taken from virtually any part of the body, even the back, and transferred anywhere else.

By this method skin has been taken from the outside of the body and detoured to interior cavities to save life.

The detour trip across or lengthwise of the body takes six to nine weeks. The method is known to surgeons as the tubed pedicle flap. The "flap" looks like the handle of a valve.

For detouring abdominal skin to the face, a square section of abdominal skin is first loosened along two opposite sides, lifted and rolled into the form of a valve handle.

This handle or flap remains fully alive nourished by blood vessels at each end, until it gets accustomed to its semi-independent form of life.

Next one end of the flap is cut free and grafted to the forehead, which can be placed near the abdomen. Over a period of several weeks the skin gets accustomed to this change.

Then the flap handle is detached from the abdomen, but left fastened to the forehead. The forehead is then free to be raised to the face, or whatever the new skin is wanted. The flap's free end is grafted in place on the face. Then finally it is detached from the forehead and the grafting completed on the face.

Sir Harold explained this makes it possible to transfer living skin which contains not only the thin surface but underlying fat and blood vessels.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

COLUMBUS

To-day the sailor goes on ways as sure as the sun.

As those of some familiar street at home,

For he and his crew has lost that old allure

Which once to brave hearts called

Of the sea and foam.

The tang of danger mingled with the scent

Of t'was salt in days Columbus sailed

Out ways unknown to find a continent

Beyond those deeps at which the boldest quailed.

Ah! When was ever man as brave as he,

Who ventured with his flimsy caravel

Upon the untrodden waters of a sea

Whose outer verge no soul on earth could tell?

For him, to meet those weeks of awful test;

For him, to tread on glory's topmost crest!

Builds Model Engines

Minutaires Turned Out By Halifax

Engraver Work Perfectly

A tiny but practical model of an overtype, 16 nominal horsepower engine with loose eccentric piston valves will be exhibited by its maker, David Briggs, Halifax engraver, at the Nova Scotia provincial exhibition.

The small but powerful contraption turns a model aeroplane wing, and three tumblers of water in the water boiler will keep it going for over an hour.

There are more than a thousand intricate parts of steel, copper and brass but it only took the miniature machinist three months to put them together. Mr. Briggs, whose hobby is mechanical models, has also constructed a working reproduction of the mechanism of a paddle-wheel ferry steamer which will fit in a suitcase and fitaged his spare time for 17 months; a tug boat engine; and a larger overtype engine which will generate power for 120 minutes.

Something To Know

If you want to revive wilted lettuce or other salad greens, put them in a pan of ice water in which has been added a cupful of vinegar. Let them set for half an hour and they'll be quite crisp. Incidentally, if you wrap lettuce in a damp towel and stick the ends of the towel in a dish of water, it will keep fresh for days.

Only 94 Englishmen have an income of more than $500,000 a year; 86,750 earn more than $10,000 a year, however.

Free Samples at Druggists of the Remarkable New Aid in the Prevention of Colds

Local Druggists Are Now Offering A Free Trial Of Vicks Vapo-Rol For Nose and Throat—Also Of Its Ideal Companion, Vicks VapoRub

NEW PREVENTION IDEA

This Discovery Introduces Unique Vicks Plan For Better Colds-Control

HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS

Following years of research on the problem of colds, Vicks Chemists have developed a new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Vapo-Rol, for nose and throat. This new Vicks Plan is the ideal companion to Vicks Vapo-Rub, the modern method of treating colds.

These two Vicks preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helpfulness of the Plan in reducing the number and duration of colds has been clinically tested by physicians. (Full details of the Plan are in each package of Vicks Vapo-Rol and of Vicks VapoRub.)

Briefly, here is how Vicks Plan works:

To Help Prevent Colds

Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition that you know is apt to be followed by a cold, such as—

Contact with others having fresh colds—crowds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—sudden changes in temperature—excesses in living, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance.

Little Helps For This Week

"Wherefore beloved be diligent that ye may be found of Him in peace, without spot, and blameless." 2 Peter 3:14.

His conscience knows no secret things. While grace and joy combine To form a life whose holy springs Are hidden and divine.

—Linae Watts.

Even the smallest discontent of conscience may render turbid the whole temper of the mind; but only peace and the effort that restores it, produce and over the whole atmosphere a breath of unexpected purity is spread, doubt and irritability pass as clouds away, the withered sympathies of earth and home open their leaves and live, and through the clearest blue the deep is seen of the heaven where God resides.—J. Martineau.

The state of mind that is described as meekness, or quietness of spirit, is characterized in a high degree by inward harmony. There is not as formerly that inward jarring of thought contending with thought, and conscience asserting rights which it could not maintain.

The Right Thing

A truck driver stalled his machine on the tracks as a fast express was coming. The truck was smashed but the driver stepped out in time and watched the performance. Looking in our reference book on "How to Act in an Emergency," we find the truck driver did exactly what he should have done.

Jumpy Nerves
